GENERAL REVIEW.

CHICAGO, January 1, 1877.

JOHN R. BENSLEY, ESQ., President:

At the beginning of the past year there seemed good reason to hope that the long depression which had existed in the commercial and industrial interests of the country had about run its course, and that brighter times were soon to dawn upon us. Embarrassed and struggling enterprises and individuals throughout the country had in many instances been enabled to so far recover their financial standing that they were in position to resume active operations, while others, less fortunate, had been obliged to yield to the pressure of the times, and by voluntary liquidation or proceedings in bankruptcy, close their relations with creditors, and leave the field to be occupied by new capital and new men, until by these processes it was believed the worst had been realized, and that, again, starting on a somewhat new basis, and with a comparatively clean record, the business interests of the country would revive, the wheels of commerce be again set in active motion, with their former regularity, and with the desired profitable results. The inflated prices of commodities incident to the late era of speculation, fostered by vast issues of paper money-tokens had in large measure disappeared, our circulating medium of exchanges seemed to be gradually but surely approaching a tangible standard of value, when the term dollar would be recognized by all to have a real meaning, and not the fluctuating misnomer by which we have for so many years been accustomed to measure the prices of labor and its product. These expectations have not been wholly disappointed. We may not have realized all we hoped for, but certainly substantial advances have been made in the right direction; fewer business failures have occurred throughout the country than in any of the recent years, and of these but a very small percentage have produced any widespread disturbance in commercial confidence, or impeded its ultimate full restoration. The manufacturing interests of the country as a rule are recovering from their embarrassments, and as a consequence many hitherto, for some years, idle hands in the manufacturing districts have been enabled to find that employment they so much needed. A most encouraging feature of this branch of industry is the fact that for the year ending June 30, 1876, our exports of manufactured goods show a very respectable increase, while our imports of similar goods show a large falling off from the previous year, indicating that our home industries are becoming better able to compete with those of other countries, both in our own and foreign markets. The foreign trade of the country has been gradually changing in our favor to a most gratifying degree, so that for the last fiscal year of the government our exports of merchandise exceeded our imports by nearly eighty million dollars, nearly or perhaps fully enough to pay the current interest on our debts held abroad, which are variously estimated at from twelve to eighteen hundred millions of dollars; in addition to this most favorable showing, our coin exports exceeded our coin imports by over forty millions of dollars, thus showing that we have been enabled to reduce our foreign indebtedness by a very respectable sum, 1876 being the first year since 1862 that our balance sheet shows any such result. Of course, it would be very desirable if we could pay all our debts in domestic products, but it is much better to pay them in coin than not to pay them at all. Since the first of July the course of trade with foreign nations has been still more favorable to us than during the same time last year. This condition of our business relations with other nations has operated most favorably on our national credit, both at home and abroad; our national bonds, bearing only four and a half per cent interest, being now readily taken at par by foreign capitalists, and the home index of national credit, the government circulating notes, being enhanced in value as compared with gold, from eighty-eight and a half to nearly ninety-three and a half cents on the dollar, or to state it differently, gold has fallen from one hundred and thirteen to one hundred and seven within the year, and still shows a declining tendency. These certainly are most gratifying results, and taken in connection with the improvement in private credit, afford just grounds for confidence in the early return of genuine prosperity. In so far as the export trade of the country directly affects the Northwest, it certainly is a source of congratulation, the increase in the value of breadstuffs and provisions exported over the previous year being over twenty-eight millions of dollars, and the largest, with one exception, of any year in the history of the country.

The business of Chicago during 1876 has been of an encouraging character, nearly all classes of property have been handled in larger volume than the previous year; the aggregate of values may not have been increased, owing to decline in prices of many articles, especially the product of manufacturing industry, and percentages of profit have not been measured by the results of some former years; but scarcely any branch can be said to have suffered from continued depression to any great degree. Local manufacturing interests generally appear to have been moderately prosperous, and labor has found employment and reasonable compensation with but little difficulty or interruption. Building enterprises have been carried forward with considerable vigor, stimulated by the low prices current for material and labor as compared with recent years, over fifteen hundred new buildings have been erected or are in progress, involving a cost of about eight and a half millions of dollars; a very large proportion of these are dwellings, the construction of which has tended to reduce rents to very reasonable figures, and in this respect the interests of the city have been greatly promoted.

The general mercantile trade of the city suffered somewhat from the exodus to Philadelphia and eastern cities during the Centennial Exposition, and the resulting diversion of our trade to the east, and also from depreciation in the value of stocks in hand, but with these drawbacks it has still well maintained itself, and is in good condition to avail itself of the better times hoped to be near at hand.

The Lumber Trade has been a trifle less in volume than in 1875. Prices have ruled very low, but this has been at least partly compensated for by low freights and the generally reduced cost of production. Manufacturers who own their timber lands, and who are well established in respect to handling and transporting their product, have probably enjoyed a fair degree of prosperity. Less favored ones, who purchased their logs, and have been subject to commission charges for disposing of their product, and in other ways operating at more or less of a disadvantage, have realized but little if any profit from the year's operations.

The trade in agricultural products has been large and reasonably satisfactory as to results.

The foreign demand for grain and provisions has been good throughout the year, and at prices, considering the general shrinkage in values, that are supposed to be highly remunerative to the producer. A somewhat careful estimate of the value of farm products passing through this city (not including shipments made from Milwaukee) results as follows:

Flour and Grain, equal to 87,241,306 bushels.....	$57,100,000
Live Stock.....	57,500,000
Product of Cattle and Hogs.....	68,200,000
Product of the Dairy.....	8,200,000
Wool and Hides.....	25,700,000
Highwines and Alcohol.....	8,500,000
Seeds and Broom Corn.....	3,750,000
Sundry other commodities.....	2,500,000
<hr/>
Total.....	$231,450,000
Corresponding estimate for 1875.....	$215,300,000
Corresponding estimate for 1874.....	197,400,000
Corresponding estimate for 1873.....	180,000,000

The aggregate receipts of both Grain and Live Stock have been greatly in excess of 1875, but of Flour and grain a very large amount has merely passed through the city, being transferred from one railway line to another without being warehoused at all. In Grain this movement has largely increased over any previous year, being stimulated by the unprecedentedly low rail freights eastward and the growing disposition to avoid as far as possible intermediate charges. In 1875, there were inspected in this city 137,001 car loads of grain, containing about 55,680,000 bushels, while the receipts by rail were 65,592,628 bushels. In 1876, there were inspected 140,388 car loads, containing about 57,800,000 bushels out of 77,719,093 bushels received by rail. The inspections for 1875 were about 85 per cent, and in 1876 about 74 per cent of the total receipts of grain by rail. The inspections being a very fair index to the amount of grain consigned only to this city, these figures give a reasonably close approximation to the amount actually consigned through. In the above figures the shipments of grain loaded at Milwaukee and passing through Chicago are not included.

If the facts here developed represented a diversion of grain from the Chicago market, showing, as they do, an increase in through consignments of over 10,000,000 bushels in 1876, as compared with 1875, it would be cause for serious alarm as to the future of the grain trade of this city; but this is not true to anything like the extent that might be supposed from a bare statement of these figures. The custom has grown up, within a few years, and will most probably continue so long as rail freights bear a close relation to those by water, of purchasing large amounts of grain on this market for delivery on railroad cars at interior points, to be shipped directly to Eastern markets by all rail, in some cases the cars of the Eastern roads being sent for it. This business, so far as it is done by Chicago merchants, and that embraces much the larger proportion of the through consignments, is as much Chicago business as if the grain passed through our elevators and was not sold until its arrival in this city, as was formerly almost the universal custom. The negotiations are made here, commissions are paid upon it, and it is almost entirely conducted on Chicago capital. In addition to that portion of this class of business which passes through this city, probably as much more is done by our merchants which does not come here at all, but is delivered to Eastern roads at various connections south and west of the city. In Flour, a much larger proportion is shipped through without any reference to the Chicago market, or the control of Chicago merchants, than in grain, but in this also a very large percentage is on orders given for purchases made here. As further illustrating this movement, reference is made to a table herewith, showing the transfers to connecting roads from the Chicago & Northwestern Railway. This table includes shipments originating in Milwaukee as well as other points on the line of that railway.

The volume of trading on the Chicago Exchange has grown rapidly within the past year in both grain and provisions, and has now assumed proportions unequalled by any similar class of trading in this country, if not in the world. Much of it is of a speculative character, operations being carried on by our commission merchants on orders from distant cities, and, in fact, from all parts of the country. Merchants, farmers, professional men, and, to some extent, the fair sex, are constantly pouring in upon our commission merchants and brokers a tide of orders for speculative ventures that at times burden the facilities for telegraphing, extensively as such are provided. The results of these operations are, of course, various, but they form no part of a proper record of vast commercial movements, except so far as they may have an influence in controlling values. That they do have a weighty influence in this respect, none who have given the subject any careful attention can deny, and as an almost universal rule the effect of such operations is to enhance prices beyond a level that could be maintained without them.

The trade of the city, in some of its more prominent features, as conducted on 'Change, may be briefly summarized as follows:

FLOUR.

The Flour trade rarely experiences any degree of excitement, nor is it subject to rapid fluctuations. During the past year there has, as a rule, been a steady consumptive demand, at times somewhat active, but usually dealers have characterized it as dull and lifeless; prices have averaged a trifle higher than the previous year. Spring Wheat flours, with which our market is mainly supplied, are year by year becoming more popular both for bakers and family consumption, in fact, the recently invented process of manufacturing them has, to a very large extent, succeeded in displacing from use among the wealthy the favorite White Winter Wheat flours of former times.

The receipts have been 2,955,197 barrels, and the city manufacture, 271,074 barrels, a total of 350,765 barrels more than in 1875. How much of this aggregate has been sold in this market there is no means of determining. As previously remarked, a very large amount of the receipts and shipments are not controlled by our merchants. The average stocks held in the city have been larger than for the previous year, but at the close it was somewhat less than a year since. The city manufacture is confined mainly to three mills, although the mills of Norton & Co., at Lockport, manufacturing in 1876 about 196,000 barrels, the wheat supply for which is almost entirely drawn from this city, might with propriety be classed as a Chicago mill.

WHEAT.

The receipts have been 16,574,058 bushels, against 24,206,370 bushels in 1875. This decline in receipts can only be accounted for by the diminished production of the territory tributary to Chicago in both the crops of 1875 and 1876, as no considerable amount has been diverted to other channels of transit. The crop of Minnesota and Iowa harvested in 1875 was estimated at 57,000,000 bushels. This was, undoubtedly, considerably in excess of the actual yield of merchantable Wheat, as no exhibit of deliveries appears in any record of receipts that would justify a conclusion of its correctness. That crop met the misfortune of wet weather in its harvesting and subsequent care, and probably a large amount was lost that under more favorable influences would have found its way to market, and in view of the unpromising character of the crop of 1876 in those States, possibly a less amount may have been marketed in the past summer than would otherwise have been the case. The estimate of the crop of 1876 by the Agricultural Department at Washington in those States is over 22,000,000 bushels less than the estimate of the same authority for the crop of 1875, and for the five States of Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska the estimate of the crop of 1876 is over 36,000,000 less than its predecessor, while that of the whole country is about 40,000,000 bushels less. The receipts at Chicago from the crop of 1875, August 1 to July 31, was over 5,000,000 bushels below those of the corresponding time the previous year, and nearly 15,000,000 bushels less than from the crop of 1873, calculated at same dates.

The crop of 1875, being damaged by wet weather, was deemed somewhat perilous to hold in large quantities during the summer months, even with a careful and rather rigid inspection as to its condition of dryness, but the trade escaped any widespread injury from its becoming out of condition while in store in this city; a small quantity, however, which had been originally inspected into the lower grades, but afterward cleaned and adjusted to an advanced grade, became more or less soft and undesirable. The crop of 1876 was good as to quality and was well garnered.

Prices during the year, although not at any time quite reaching the maximum for 1875, have averaged a trifle higher, closing at about the highest point of the year. The lower grades of the old crop ranged at a wider difference from No. 2 than has been usual, owing to the damp character of the wheat inspected into them. Since August this difference has been less. The wheat known as Minnesota Nos. 1 and 2 has been in good demand, that class of wheat having grown in favor for export. At the close of the year No. 2 Spring commanded 125@125½ cents cash, and 127½ for delivery in February.

The Exports of Wheat from the Atlantic seaboard have been less than the previous year by nearly 4,000,000 bushels, but the indications point to a larger demand for the coming year in this direction, in case our prices are reasonable as compared with other sources of supply.

CORN.

The receipts of corn during the past year in this city have exceeded those of any former year in our history, being 48,668,640 bushels, an increase over the previous year of over 20,000,000 bushels, and more than 1,500,000 in excess of the previously unprecedented receipts of 1872. The crop raised in 1875 in Illinois and Iowa proved to be of better quality and very much greater in quantity than was estimated a year since, the estimate on November 1 by the Agricultural Department being about 173,000,000 for Illinois, while their final estimate raised it to 280,000,000. Some apprehension was felt during the winter as to the condition of the crop, fears being entertained that it would prove to be seriously damaged by frosts. This, however, was not realized to any great extent, nearly as large a percentage of the crop of 1875 being inspected as sound corn as of the previous crop, the standard of inspection being substantially the same in both years. A very large amount was received from Kansas, a comparatively new source of supply. The quality of this was very fine, and the receipts from that quarter would undoubtedly have been much larger but for the low rail freights made to Baltimore and Philadelphia, which tended to draw large amounts of it directly to those points. Another reason for diversion from this market was believed to be the rigid inspection of corn of the higher qualities. It seems almost unaccountable that in an inspection by rail of nearly 30,000,000 bushels, drawn from the best corn-producing territory in this country, less than 100,000 bushels should be found fit to be graded No. 1. It may be true that there has existed no demand in this market for No. 1 corn that would cause it to command much if any premium over No. 2; but this fact probably exists because, there being so insignificant an amount of it procurable that orders do not come here for it, a supply would doubtless bring a demand for it, as it does at Baltimore, where more encouragement is given to properly preparing corn for market, and a corresponding value is realized for it. The attention of our inspection authorities to this subject, to the end that all corn should be inspected strictly on its merits, without reference to the fact that it may sell for the same price whether inspected No. 1 or No. 2, will, it is believed, result in a large increase in No. 1 corn, for which a demand would probably soon be found.

Prices have ruled largely below those for the previous year, but with unusually small fluctuations, cash No. 2 corn in store falling below 40 cents only in one week at the beginning of February, and at no time exceeding 49 cents per bushel.

The export demand for Europe has been large, exceeding 60,000,000 bushels from the principal Atlantic ports, against about 26,000,000 bushels the previous year. The low price at which it could be laid down at consumptive points greatly stimulating the trade.

The crop of corn grown in 1876 is large and of good quality. That in this State, Iowa and Missouri is, however, somewhat less than that of 1875, while that grown in States further east is larger. From some of the largest corn-growing counties of this State all reports concur in placing the production at less than half that of last year, so that probably the estimate of the Agricultural Department of 249,000,000 as the product of the State will prove to be considerably in excess of the true amount.

A very noticeable feature of the corn movement of the country is the diversion of the export trade in it from New York to Philadelphia and Baltimore. The reported exports to Europe from Philadelphia have risen from about 4,200,000 in 1875 to 16,500,000 bushels in 1876; from Baltimore the increase has been from 6,800,000 in 1875 to 20,500,000 bushels in 1876; while from New York it has been 15,900,000 in 1876 against 11,900,000 in 1875. It is somewhat difficult to account for so vast a change in the course of this trade, as all these cities have enjoyed closely approximating rates of freight from the interior, especially on export shipments. The facilities for handling and dispatch at Philadelphia and Baltimore are superior and cheaper than at New York, but it has been supposed that the greater accumulation of tonnage at New York, especially its vast steam tonnage, would largely offset her disadvantages in other respects. The facts are of sufficient importance to justify serious inquiry by our metropolitan friends as to their further prospects for retaining the supremacy they have so long enjoyed in respect to this trade. In Wheat the diversion has been much less.

OATS.

The trade in Oats has been unsatisfactory as to prices throughout the year, the average being but little if any over two-thirds of that of 1875. The receipts have been 13,030,121 bushels against 12,916,428 the previous year. The crop of 1876 was one of the poorest in quality that the West has produced in several years, a large percentage of those arriving in this city weighing less than 27 pounds per bushel. The shipping movement has been largely diverted from the lake to the rail, partly owing to the fact that purchases are largely made on orders for local interior consumption in the Eastern States, but probably more from the fact that rail freights are based upon weight only, while those by water are calculated more on the basis of bulk. The low prices current in this country have developed a demand for export to Europe, over 4,000,000 bushels having been exported during the year, against less than 200,000 in 1875.

RYE.

The receipts of Rye have been more than double those of 1875, and larger than any previous year since 1871, the total being 1,497,917 bushels. The receipts during the first seven months were very small, and the demand of only a retail character; throughout the year prices have ruled much below those of 1875, closing at 71 @ 72½ for Nos. 1 and 2, which is as high a price as was reached during the year. About one-tenth of the crop of the country was exported to Europe, which is more than our exports have ever reached before.

BARLEY.

The Barley crop of 1875 in the West was poor, and that of 1876 was not very much better. The quality of that on our market has not been such as to invite either active speculation or investments for consumption, and prices have been unsatisfactory to the producer. The production of the Northwest and of New York are less than in 1875, but prices do not appear to be influenced by that fact. A very considerable quantity of old

Barley still remains in store in this city. Since the new crop began to arrive the trading has been almost exclusively confined to it, and the old has not been wanted at any price that would induce its removal. The receipts have been 4,716,360 bushels, against 3,107,297 in 1875. Over 500,000 bushels have been brought here from Canada, and considerable from California and Utah.

LIVE STOCK.

The receipts of both Cattle and Hogs have been larger than in 1875, those of Sheep and Horses less.

The total valuations of Live Stock received at the Union Stock Yards, of this city, for the past five years, as reported by Geo. T. Williams, Esq., Secretary of the Stock Yards Company, are as follows:

Years.	Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.	Horses.	Total Value.
1872.....	684,075	3,252,623	310,211	12,145	$87,500,000
1873.....	761,428	4,337,750	291,734	20,289	91,321,162
1874.....	843,966	4,258,379	333,655	17,588	115,049,140
1875.....	920,843	3,912,110	418,948	11,346	117,533,941
1876.....	1,096,745	4,190,006	364,095	8,159	111,185,660

In addition to the Live Hogs, there was received during the past year 148,622 Dressed Hogs, making the total receipts of the year 4,338,628.

The shipments have been 797,724 Cattle; 1,211,289 Hogs, live and dressed; 195,925 Sheep, and 6,839 Horses; leaving for packing and city consumption 299,021 Cattle, 3,127,339 Hogs and 168,170 Sheep. Prices of all stock have ruled lower than in 1875, but it is believed the raising and fattening of stock is one of the most profitable branches of Western farming industry. The area of territory from which live stock is drawn to this market is constantly extending, the newly-settled states and territories contributing largely to swell the volume of our receipts. The Hog crop of the West in 1876 is generally regarded as being somewhat short, but past experience does not encourage the idea that it can be estimated with any great degree of certainty. A notable feature of the Hog movement is the largely increased receipts from points eastward. The receipts by the five Eastern railway lines being 285,713 in 1876, against 89,147 in 1875.

THE PACKING AND PROVISION BUSINESS.

The Provision trade of this city has grown more rapidly within the past ten years than any other, and Chicago is, probably, now conceded by all to be the centre, and to a large extent the regulator, of that interest. The packing of Hogs has much more than doubled within the time named, as has also the quantity of meats sent to this market for sale. The number of Hogs packed during the regular packing season of 1875-6—November 1 to March 1—was 1,592,065, and for the calendar year of 1876 nearly or quite 3,000,000. No accurate returns of the summer packing has as yet been compiled. The packing of the current season, November 1 to December 31, aggregates 1,050,945, against 838,339 during the same time the previous year. This business gives employment to immense lines of capital and to a large number of persons, from the highest order of commercial talent to the lowest class of laborers, and from present indications promises to be one of constant growth, and in the near future far surpassing its present vast proportions.

A very important branch of the slaughtering and packing business is that of beef preparations for the foreign markets. The business of shipping dressed beef to England has assumed considerable magnitude, and has been made a financial success, the beef being used there by the best classes of society, and is rapidly growing in favor and demand.

The canning of beef, also for export, a recent development of Chicago enterprise, has also become a leading article of manufacture in this city.

But little beef is now packed in this city by the old process of salting in barrels and tierces, that kind of provisions being much less in favor than in former years.

The trade in provisions, besides being largely for consumptive demand, has also become one of a speculative character, the latter class of operations being largely confined to Mess Pork and Lard. The magnitude of transactions in these articles, is to conservative merchants of the old style somewhat startling, but these are conducted with less of friction, and probably with more generally satisfactory results than similar operations in grain.

Prices during the past year for Pork products have been on a lower range than in 1875, the extreme fluctuation of cash Mess Pork being $15.20 late in October to $22.75 about the 1st of April. Prime Steam Lard sold $9.55 per 100 pounds about the 1st of September and at $13.85 in April, these being the extremes of the year; the range on sweet pickled hams has been from $9 to $13 ½ cents per pound. For boxed and loose dry salted meats there has been a steady consumptive demand for the East and South and for export. The consumption of American hog product, in both Great Britain and the Continent of Europe, is rapidly increasing, and there seems scarcely a limit to it, if prices are on a moderate basis. The export movement for 1876 has been nearly forty per cent in excess of 1875.

DISTILLED SPIRITS.

The manufacture of Distilled Spirits in this city has been considerably reduced during the past year, owing to difficulties between the manufacturers and the government in respect to the payment of taxes on the product. Nearly all the distilleries were at one time seized by government officials, and the business brought to a stand. The production of this collection district, as returned to the Collector of Internal Revenue, was 6,450,456 gallons, being the smallest since 1869, notwithstanding the fact that probably a much nearer return was made to the true aggregate than for several years past.

The price of Highwines during the year has been subject to limited fluctuations, the extreme range for the proof gallon being from 104 to 110½ cents. At the close of the year, several of the distillers that had suspended operations during a large part of the past year, have been reorganized and are in full operation.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The trade in various agricultural products not previously enumerated, has been in almost every article larger than during the previous year; Potatoes being an exception, owing to the inferior production of the last crop. In Dairy Products, the trade has been large and prices well sustained, especially in Butter, the quality of which has improved so rapidly within a few years past, that our market is now sought by dealers in a prime article much more generally than formerly. Factory Butter has commanded ready sale during a large portion of the year at 30 cents per lb. or above. In Wool and Hides, the season's business has been conducted on a lower average of prices than in 1875, but toward the close of the year both rallied, somewhat, from the depression of the earlier part of the year. The receipts of seeds have been larger by nearly thirty per cent than in 1875. Clover Seed has ruled higher, under a good demand, partly for export. Timothy, up to the new crop, sold at about the same price as the previous year, but since August it has ruled on a lower basis, closing at $1.70@ $1.75 for choice seed. The crop of Flax Seed in the West was smaller than in 1875; prices, however, have averaged some lower, but at the close are nearly the same as a year since. In Hay and Broom Corn lower prices have been submitted to, but the trade has been pretty steady and in a healthy condition; the last crop of Hay was secured in better condition than its predecessor. Broom Corn was rather a light crop in most of the Western States. Of fruits and vegetables generally, the supply has been abundant, and the quality excellent. The Apple crop was very abundant, and of remarkably fine quality. The trade in green fruits in this city has been for some years subject to a growing disposition on the part of packers to so arrange it in packages as to deceive the unsuspecting purchaser, both as to its quantity and quality. Perhaps no branch of the city's trade needs a more thorough reorganization or supervision than this, and it commends itself to the attention of those authorized to suppress imposition and fraud.

DIRECT FOREIGN TRADE.

This branch of commerce has been prosecuted with even more vigor than in former years, the shipments on through bills of lading to Europe averaging over 1,000 tons per day throughout the year, the aggregate being 314,507 tons, as shown by a detailed statement herewith. The most valuable articles embraced in this statement are Provisions and Grain, but the export trade in many other articles is rapidly growing, including Seeds, Hides, Leather, Oil Cake, etc. The export trade to Canada by Lake has been less in wheat and more in corn than the previous year. No record is kept in this city of the shipments by rail to Canada, which embraces by far the largest portion of the trade. The importations passing through our Custom House are shown in detail, by tables, under appropriate headings; these, however, embrace so imperfect a statement of the importations by our merchants, a large part of whose goods pay duties at the seaboard, that it should not be accepted as a fair index of the extent of the business.

THE CARRYING TRADE.

Perhaps no feature of the business of the country presents so unsatisfactory or anomalous a condition as that of the carrying trade between the West and the seaboard. The rates of transportation which have prevailed during the greater portion of the year have been lower than ever before, and, in fact, have been kept at a point that the uninitiated in such questions were told, and generally believed, would be utterly ruinous to those engaged in the business. The year opened with an existing combination among the railway lines leading eastward from this city, that was regarded by our people as little less than unmitigated extortion, not so much on account of the rates demanded from them, but rather from the fact that they were subjected to a given and inflexible standard of charges, while at competing points no such arrangement existed, and rates were regulated on the principles usually governing under active competition. Our people, both through the public press and by committees and private conferences, protested against this injustice, but without avail, for several months, and probably, so far as such influences were concerned, entirely without result. Events within and without this combination, however, brought about its entire disruption about the time the ice blockade released our lake shipping interests, and then commenced a war of rates between the elements of the previous combination, which was kept up with unabated vigor until near the close of the year, when, what may be more properly termed a truce, rather than an established reconciliation and agreement, was entered into, and a moderate advance was agreed upon. During the pendency of the contest, rates remained nominally on the basis of 20 cents per 100 pounds on grain and fourth-class freights, and 40 cents per barrel on flour from Chicago to New York, and at a trifle less to Philadelphia and Baltimore, but even these unprecedentedly low rates were at times shaded to as low as 14 cents per 100 pounds on grain to New York, and generally, if for export, they were taken at the same rate to New York as to Philadelphia. In this latter respect, the New York merchants submitted to a discrimination against them with a spirit of complacency or indifference really remarkable in American citizens. Low as the east-bound freights were held, those westward-bound were still lower,—first-class freights, usually from 50 to 100 or more per cent higher than fourth-class, were taken largely at 15 to 18 cents per 100 pounds. Probably nothing that has ever occurred in the history of transportation in this country has so shaken the public confidence in hitherto-accepted data as to the cost of railway transportation as the rates prevailing during this long contest, and the inquiry presses itself upon all who give attention to the question, whether, if these rates have not produced a ruinous loss to the contending lines, previous rates have not been in the highest degree extortionate. It is understood to be claimed that while the business has not been fully remunerative, it has not been, generally, one of actual loss, and at least some of the lines interested have declared their usual dividends, alleged to have been made out of the net earnings of the business. If accepted theories of the cost of moving property have been so much at fault as these facts would seem to indicate, it certainly behooves the people who have granted railway franchises to corporations to press the inquiry as to whether they are not subject to exactions for transportation on most of the lines of the country wholly unreasonable and unjustifiable, and if, on the other hand, the managers of the lines which have been engaged in this warfare have been recklessly wasting the substance of their stockholders, they should impose such restrictions upon their servants as will avert the national disaster of bankrupting these vast enterprises. The public, while they demand justice in the management of corporations, do not desire that a spirit of rivalry should be permitted to destroy the property value of railway lines constructed for their benefit.

The extremely low rates maintained by the railway lines have kept freights by water at so insignificant a point that no profit has been realized on the immense investment in the lake grain carrying interest. The medium sized class of vessels have practically been forced to abandon the trade, many of them having remained at their dock the whole year. Lake freights hence to Buffalo have only touched five cents per bushel on wheat for a few days late in October, while for weeks in midsummer they were from two to two and a half cents on wheat, and one and a half to two cents on corn. Erie canal freights, including tolls, have ranged from five and a half cents on corn to eight cents on wheat from Buffalo to New York, except for a short time in October, when they rose to ten cents on wheat. The average for the season is about six and a quarter on corn and seven on wheat. Late in the season higher rates were paid by propeller to Buffalo and thence to New York by rail than was current by all rail, the impossibility of securing adequate rail facilities to meet the demand enabling the propeller lines to in some measure dictate their own terms.

The West can scarcely afford to see the carrying trade by water entirely obliterated from the competitive forces in the transportation business, and it is not a subject of congratulation that this important interest is found in its present languishing condition. The arrivals and clearances at this port for 1876 are less in number than since 1864, and nearly 1,000 less than in 1875. The Erie canal business has been exceedingly discouraging, even at the greatly reduced cost of moving property by that route. The application of steam to the propulsion of boats on that canal does not appear to have met the success that was, a few years since, confidently anticipated, but on the Illinois & Michigan canal the recently constructed boats appear to have been eminently successful. The canal commissioners, in their late report to the Governor, note the results of the operations of two boats, working at the disadvantage of short trips, which shows the cost per ton per mile at only about three and a half mills. The effect on rates of transportation of the influence of water competition is very forcibly illustrated by comparisons of rates given in the commissioners' report, wherein it is stated that summer rates from Peoria to Chicago by rail, 160 miles, with which there is water competition, have been less than three cents per bushel on corn; while from Tiskilwa to Chicago, 122 miles, with no water competition, the rate at the same time was nearly seven cents per bushel. It is quite plain, from all the figures relating to rates during the past year, that the transportation problem has not yet been fully comprehended and solved. What the events of the future may develop it is not safe to predict.

I trust this may not be deemed an inappropriate time or place to express congratulations to yourself, Mr. President, to the members of the body you represent, to the people of our own city and of the country, on the auspicious opening of the second century of our national existence. One hundred years ago our fathers, amid doubts and fears as to the result, but in a firm reliance on the justice and propriety of their act, and appealing to the Sovereign Ruler of the Universe for support and aid, resolved to organize an independent government, and to defend it with their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. What they planted in poverty and weakness has grown to be a great power among the nations of the earth. At that time the territory which we inhabit was a vast wilderness, unknown as a desirable residence for mankind. Less than fifty years since the red man held undisputed possession of our present homes, and the vast outlying country, upon which this great city is dependent for its commercial existence and prosperity, was revealing in Nature's garb, untouched by the enchanting wand of modern civilization. Our nation has been subjected to the strain of internal strife to a degree unparalleled in the world's history, and it has successfully endured the shock, resting to-day, as we have reason to believe, on a firmer foundation than ever before. Our domestic financial affairs have again and again been so embarrassed that it seemed almost inevitable that general bankruptcy must ensue. The great Northwest, peopled by those enjoying but few of the luxuries of life, or able to procure them, has risen to wealth and distinction throughout the civilized world. Our city, from its seventy inhabitants in 1830, has grown to a metropolis of near half a million souls. It has passed an ordeal of fire such as has been visited upon no city of modern times, and has emerged from its smoke and destruction scorched and for the moment overwhelmed by the contemplation of the utter desolation of its haunts of commercial activity and of its domestic treasuries, but with firm resolve to restore its commercial palaces, to rebuild its temples of worship, and again gather the family circle within its reconstructed domestic tenement. All this has been accomplished within a space of time that the most sanguine would have deemed incredible, and to-day we are ready to join our brethren, east and west, north and south, in greeting the new century of national life, and with them grapple with the future in the endeavor to place our country on a still higher elevation; to assist as best we may to develop its resources, counteract and overcome harmful influences, social, commercial or political, and by every appropriate means seek to establish a high order of intelligence, refinement and patriotism throughout the land, to the end that when we come to pass over to posterity the results of our efforts they may, appreciating their sacred trust, carry it forward to the loftiest attainments of human government and social life.

Those representing the commercial and industrial interests of this country have surely as much at stake in the future stability of our affairs and the full development of all our resources, and doubtless take as deep an interest in promoting these ends, as any class of our people, and I am sure they must feel highly gratified that, on the whole, our prospects for the future are so promising of high achievements in the records of the world's history.

In conclusion, I beg to submit herewith detailed statements of a large portion of the business of this city during the past year, together with other statistics that may be of interest and use to the members of the Board and others.

I have the honor to be, Mr. President,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

CHAS. RANDOLPH,

Secretary.

The assessment for the ensuing year has been fixed at twenty dollars for each member. It is believed that this, together with other charges for admission to the Exchange room, will produce a revenue sufficient to meet the ordinary expenses of the Board. The present membership embraces eighteen hundred and forty-two names. No new members have been received by the payment of the initiation fee, but, one hundred and sixty transfers of memberships have been made from members deceased or retiring, to new applicants approved by the Board of Directors. During the past year sixteen of our members have been called from among us to their final account, and their final rest. Among them were some who had been long with us, and whom we had learned to esteem as sterling merchants and noble men. The daily attendance at the business sessions of the Board has been larger during the past year than ever before. The question of the necessity of providing more room for the meetings of the Association has pressed itself upon the attention of your Directors, but having in mind the fact that we now have in daily attendance an unusually large number of visitors, and probably many members who, with a revival in general business, will find other channels of employment, we have deemed it best to await the developments of the near future, before determining upon what is required in relation thereto. In this connection your Directors would suggest the inquiry, whether it is not practicable and desirable, to materially reduce the number of persons that are admitted to the floor of the Exchange as clerks. Many abuses, both by members and the persons nominally clerks, have been discovered, but with our present rules and practices it is impracticable to apply an adequate remedy. Large expenditures have been incurred during the year, in rearranging and improving the Commercial building, with a view to increasing the revenue therefrom. These expenditures amount to something over seven thousand dollars, but it is believed that the increased rentals will fully justify the outlay, and eventually reimburse the treasury.

Nearly four thousand dollars has been spent for the purpose of securing proper ventilation for the Exchange hall. A small portion of this sum was expended in experiments which did not produce the desired result. The system finally adopted, and now in operation is apparently an eminent success, and we believe will give permanent satisfaction. It is proper to state that the Chamber of Commerce has reimbursed the Board to the extent of one-half of the amount so expended.

At the beginning of the year four suits against the Board by members who had been subjected to its discipline, were pending in the Supreme Court of the State on the appeal of the parties against whom action had been taken. Two of these have been disposed of by decisions in favor of the Board, fully confirming its power to discipline its members under its own rules. In the principal one of these, the court goes so far as to decide that the courts have no jurisdiction to review the acts of the Corporation in such matters. In the other two cases no decision has been filed. An important question has been adjudicated by the Circuit Court of this County, touching the right to demand relief from suspension, by a member of the Board, who had been suspended for failure to fulfil commercial contracts, but who had subsequently applied for, and obtained a discharge in bankruptcy. The court held that such discharge was not such a satisfactory adjustment and settlement of the obligations of the bankrupt as is contemplated by the rules of the Board, and denied the order prayed for.

Considerable annoyance has been experienced by petty suits against members, in which it was sought to make the Board a party by garnishment of the membership of the member. This question has been decided within a few days by the Circuit Court of this county, the Court holding that such membership was not subject to garnishment. The United States District Court had previously held that these memberships were not property liable to be scheduled by a bankrupt. It is hoped that hereafter the Board will be relieved from the necessity of attention to suits of this character.

Although the past year has been one of unusual commercial depression in our own country, and in fact throughout the greater part of the civilized world, yet we congratulate you upon the fact that as a rule the members of this Association have enjoyed a reasonable degree of prosperity, and that as a body, we have been remarkably free from panics or disaster.

The business of the country has been interrupted and its finances disturbed by the recurrence of a general election, and these evils have been seriously aggravated by the uncertainty yet hanging over the result of that election. We believe that the wisdom of our rulers, and the patriotism of our people, are equal to the emergency, and that the decision will be properly made and peaceably acquiesced in. This done, we may reasonably expect the commencement of that revival in business so long looked for and so ardently desired, and which was so promising of early realization on the first day of November last. Notwithstanding a partial failure in some of the crops in certain localities, the Northwest has been more prosperous during the past year than any other division of our country, and has, by industry and a manifest disposition to husband her resources, put itself in a position to be able to seize upon the first opportunity to inaugurate the era of returning prosperity that is evidently immediately before us. In the matter of cheap transportation between the West and the Seaboard, the great law of supply and demand seems to have superseded the necessity of national or State legislation, and it is an open question, if the rates for freight eastward from this point during the past year have not been lower than is for the best interests of the country. The necessity for some change in the inspection of grain in this city is pressing itself upon the attention of our members. The protection of our own interests, as well as those of the vast grain districts tributary to Chicago, demand that vigorous measures be adopted looking to the restoration to the Board of the right to classify the grain handled in this market. This subject is now in the hands of an able committee selected from among the members of the Association.

Your Directors would congratulate you upon the fact that there is a growing disposition among the members to abide by the rules and the decisions of the Board, as well as to cultivate a higher standard of commercial ethics. This is the best guarantee we can have of the healthy growth and the perpetuity of our Association. If, during the year 1876 our trade and commerce have not developed as rapidly as we could wish, we should bear in mind that it was the American year of Jubilee, and that we may justly claim a compensating benefit arising from the increased facilities our people have enjoyed for the free exchange of courtesies, of opinions, and of patriotic congratulations and aspirations, as they performed the grand pilgrimage to the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board of Directors.

JOHN R. BENSLEY, President.

NOTE.—Up to 1850 only the aggregate valuations in the several counties were reported to the State officers, and from 1852 to 1857, inclusive, a few counties returned only the aggregates; hence the details of Real Estate and Personal Property Valuations are not complete for those years. In 1867 and 1868 the details of Valuation are not entirely correct, owing to changes by the operation of the equalization law; since 1868 the Valuations are as equalized. The total Valuations in each of the several years are entirely correct and official.

The Valuations for 1873 as equalized are largely in excess of any previous year, and are believed to be fully sixty-five (65) per cent. of the cash value of Real and Personal Property, and still nearer the entire value of Railroad Property. In 1874 some changes were made in the manner of equalizing the assessments, resulting in reducing all the valuations, but especially that of Railroad Property.

The State Debt, as noted, represents it as it stood on the 1st of January in each of the several years to 1869. In 1869 and 1870, as it stood December 1. In 1871, as it stood December 31. Since 1872, as it stood December 1.

No. 3 WINTER WHEAT shall include Winter Wheat, not clean and plump enough for No. 2, and weighing not less than 54 pounds to the measured bushel.

REJECTED WINTER WHEAT shall include Winter Wheat damp, musty, or from any cause so badly damaged as to render it unfit for No. 3.

SPRING WHEAT.

No. 1 SPRING WHEAT shall be sound, plump, and well cleaned.

No. 2 SPRING WHEAT shall be sound, reasonably clean, and of good milling quality.

NORTHWESTERN SPRING WHEAT, Nos. 1 and 2, shall include the varieties of Hard Spring Wheat of good milling quality, and equal in every respect to the present standard of Nos. 1 and 2 Spring Wheat.

No. 3 SPRING WHEAT shall include all inferior, shrunken, or dirty Spring Wheat, weighing not less than 53 pounds to the measured bushel.

REJECTED SPRING WHEAT shall include Spring Wheat damp, musty, grown, badly bleached, or for any other cause which renders it unfit for No. 3.

In case of mixture of Spring and Winter Wheat, it will be called Spring Wheat, and graded according to the quality thereof.

BLACK SEA AND FLINTY PFIFE WHEAT shall in no case be inspected higher than No. 2, and Rice Wheat no higher than Rejected.

CORN.

No. 1 YELLOW CORN shall be yellow, sound, dry, plump, and well cleaned.

No. 1 WHITE CORN shall be white, sound, dry, plump, and well cleaned.

No. 1 CORN shall be sound, dry, plump, and well cleaned, white and yellow unmixed with red.

HIGH MIXED CORN shall be three-quarters yellow, and equal to No. 2 in condition and quality.

No. 2 CORN shall be dry, reasonably clean, but not plump enough for No. 1.

No. 2 KILN DRIED CORN shall be sound, plump, and well cleaned, white or yellow. All kiln dried Corn not good enough for No. 2 kiln dried, shall be graded as Rejected kiln dried Corn.

NEW HIGH MIXED CORN shall be three-fourths yellow, of any age, reasonably dry and reasonably clean, but not sufficiently dry for "High Mixed or No. 2."

NEW MIXED CORN may be less than three-fourths yellow, of any age, and shall be reasonably dry and reasonably clean, but not sufficiently dry for No. 2.

REJECTED — All Barley which is damp, musty, or from any cause is badly damaged, or largely mixed with other grain, shall be graded as Rejected.

The word "new" shall be inserted in each certificate of inspection of a newly harvested crop of Oats until the 15th day of August, of Rye until the first day of September, of Wheat until the first day of November, and of Barley until the first day of May of each year. This change shall be construed as establishing a new grade for the time specified, to conform in every particular to the existing grades of grain, excepting the distinctions of "new" and "old."

All Grain that is warm, or is in a heating condition, or is otherwise unfit for warehousing, shall not be graded.

All Inspectors shall make their reasons for grading grain, when necessary, fully known by notations on their books. The weight alone shall not determine the grade.

Each Inspector is required to ascertain the weight, per measured bushel, of each lot of wheat inspected by him and note the same in his book.

Any person who shall assume to act as an Inspector of Grain, who has not first been so appointed and sworn, shall be held to be an impostor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100 for each and every attempt to so inspect Grain, to be recovered before a Justice of the Peace.

Any duly authorized Inspector of Grain who shall be guilty of neglect of duty, or who shall knowingly or carelessly inspect or grade any Grain improperly, or who shall accept any money or other consideration, directly or indirectly, for any neglect of duty, or the improper performance of any duty as Inspector of Grain, and any person who shall improperly influence any Inspector of Grain in the performance of his duties as such Inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, shall be fined in a sum not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, in the discretion of the Court, or shall be imprisoned in the County Jail not less than three nor more than twelve months, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

All Assistant Inspectors, when upon duty, shall wear a badge furnished by the Chief Inspector, plainly designating the position of each in the department.

The Chief Inspector, and all persons inspecting grain under his direction, shall in no case make the grade of Grain above that of the poorest quality found in any lot of Grain when it has evidently been mixed or doctored for the purpose of deception.

All persons employed in the Inspection of Grain shall report all attempts to defraud the system of Grain Inspection as established by law. They shall also report to the said Chief Inspector, in writing, all instances where warehousemen deliver, or attempt to deliver Grain of a lower grade than that called for by the warehouse receipt. They shall also report all attempts of receivers or shippers of Grain to instruct or in any way influence the action or opinion of the Inspector, and the Chief Inspector shall report all such cases to the Commissioners.

FURTHER DETAILS OF DIRECT EXPORTS.

Of the shipments by Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway, 136,484 tons were forwarded by "Black Star Line," and 1,387 tons by "Red Star Line." The "Red Star Line" also forwarded to Europe, in addition to that included in the statement, 1,849 tons of valuable goods from California, Alaska and Japan. Much the largest portion forwarded by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway was exported via Philadelphia. Of the shipments by Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway, 55,923 tons went via the New York Central Railroad to Boston; 26,699 tons via the New York Central to New York, and 2,425 via the Erie Railway to New York, the whole being forwarded by the "Merchants' Despatch" freight line. Of the shipments by Michigan Central Railroad, 28,864 tons was via Boston, and 6,493 tons via New York by the "Blue Line," and 12,482 tons via New York by the "Eric & North Shore Line." Shipments by Grand Trunk Railway were made via Montreal, Portland or Boston. Shipments by "Eric and Pacific Despatch," about 3,500 tons, were made via New York. Those by the "National Line" went largely via Philadelphia, and those by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad were exported entirely via Baltimore.

The agency of the "American Line" of ocean steamers, Philadelphia to Liverpool, forwarded by that line 46,988 tons, and the same agency forwarded, via "Red Star Line" of steamers, Philadelphia to Antwerp, 12,040 tons; and also via Philadelphia to Cork for orders, or to direct ports in the United Kingdom, nearly 1,500,000 bushels of grain, a small portion of which was shipped hence by lake. The agency of the "Anchor Line" ocean steamers forwarded nearly 10,000 tons all via New York, and that of the "State Line" forwarded nearly 4,500 tons also via New York. All these amounts, however, are included in the general statement on the preceding page.

LUMBER STATISTICS.

The receipts of Lumber in 1876 have been 1,039,785,265 feet, and the shipments 576,124,287 feet.

The receipts of Shingles for the year have been 566,977,400, and the shipments 214,389,575.

The shipments are undoubtedly reported too low, owing to the fact that large quantities are reported as shipped by rail on estimates of car loads, much below what they actually contained.

The stocks on hand in the city at the beginning of each of the last four years were as follows:

NOTE.—The above noted rates may be considered the maximum of charges at the dates named; from March 7 to December 18 these were more or less shaded, depending on quantity and other circumstances. Considerable amounts of Grain were taken from Chicago to New York as low as 14 cents per 100 lbs., or about three mills per ton per mile, and other property in proportion. For a large portion of the year rates have been very irregular, but upon the basis of 20 cents per 100 lbs. on Grain to New York as a maximum, or about four and a quarter mills per ton per mile.
